Investment Strategy
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The Portfolio seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing in a concentrated portfolio principally in securities (including convertible bonds) issued by real estate investment trusts ("REITs"). The Portfolio will not acquire any real estate directly.</li> <li>• The Portfolio may invest in companies of any market capitalisation but shall typically invest in REITs that have market capitalisation greater than USD $300m at the time of purchase.</li> <li>• The Portfolio will invest at least 80% of its NAV in REITs and other REIT-like entities (which are those entities with similar characteristics as REITS but which generally do not pay dividends and are not eligible to be classified as REITs for US tax purposes) at all times. The remaining 20% of the Portfolio's NAV may be invested in debt securities. The Portfolio may invest up to 15% NAV in REITS and debt securities which are deemed to be illiquid.</li> <li>• The Portfolio will not utilise total return swaps, securities lending or margin lending.</li> <li>• The Portfolio may use FDIs for investment purposes, efficient portfolio management purposes and hedging purposes, but not extensively or primarily for investment purposes.</li> <li>• The Portfolio may or may be expected to have medium to high levels of volatility due to its investment policies or portfolio management techniques.</li> </ul>	Refer to "INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE, FOCUS AND APPROACH" of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on the investment strategy.

KEY RISKS
WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT? The value of the product and its dividends or coupons (if any) may rise or fall. These risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment:	Refer to "RISK FACTORS" of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on the risk of the product.
Market and Credit Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Equity Securities Risk – Investment in equity securities in general are subject to market risks that may cause their prices to fluctuate over time due to various factors, such as changes in investment sentiment, political and economic conditions and issuer-specific factors. The value of convertible equity securities</li> </ul>

is also affected by prevailing interest rates, the credit quality of the issuer and any call provisions. These would cause the NAV of the Portfolio to fluctuate. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Country Concentration Risk – The Portfolio's investments are concentrated in the United States and will have greater exposure to market, political, legal, economic and social risks of the United States than a fund which diversifies country risk across a number of countries, thus leading to more volatility.</li><li>• Currency Risk – The base currency value of the investment of the Portfolio designated in another currency may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations in respect of the relevant currencies. Adverse movements in currency exchange rates can result in a decrease in return of and a loss of capital. The currency exchange rates of Emerging Market Countries tend to be more volatile than those of more developed countries. As the base currency of the Portfolio is not in Singapore dollars, Singapore investors may be exposed to an additional currency risk.</li><li>• Currency Hedging Risk – Currency hedging instruments may involve the risk of a default by a counterparty.</li></ul>
Liquidity Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• The Portfolio is not listed in Singapore and you can redeem only on Dealing Days – There is no secondary market for the Portfolio. Your right to redeem may be suspended or deferred under certain circumstances.</li><li>• Liquidity Risks – The Portfolio is exposed to liquidity risk as the Portfolio may invest up to 15% of its assets in REITs and/or debt securities which are deemed to be illiquid.</li></ul>
Product-Specific Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• REITs Risk – There are particular risks associated with the direct ownership of real estate by REITs. For example, real estate values may fluctuate as a result of general and local economic conditions, overbuilding and increased competition, increases in property taxes and operating expenses, changes in zoning laws, casualty or condemnation losses, regulatory limitations on rents, changes in neighbourhood values, changes in how appealing properties are to tenants and increases in interest rates. As well as changes in the value of their underlying properties, the value of REITs may also be affected by defaults by borrowers or tenants.</li><li>• Mortgage REITs – Mortgage REITs, which invest the majority of their assets in real estate mortgages and derive their income mainly from interest payments, may be affected by the quality of any credit extended. In addition to the risks which REITs are subject to, mortgage REITs are also subject to interest rate risks, management risks, diversification risks, cash flow risks, and credit risk.</li><li>• Hybrid REITs – Hybrid REITs combine the characteristics of both mortgage REITs and equity REITs and may take on exposure to the risks associated with both mortgage REITs and equity REITs concurrently.</li><li>• Risks relating to the use of FDI – FDIs may be subject to various types of risks, including market risk, liquidity risk, counterparty credit risk, legal risk and operations risk. In addition, FDIs can involve significant economic leverage and may, in some cases, involve high risk of significant loss. The use of FDIs may lead to risk of loss of capital or increase the volatility of the Portfolio's NAV.</li><li>• Risks relating to dividend payment – Dividends paid out of capital amount to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment which may result in an immediate decrease in the NAV of the relevant shares. An investment in high yield securities does not necessarily imply high dividend distribution for all share classes.</li></ul>
