Market and Credit Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You are exposed to market risks. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o Prices of the securities that the Fund invests in may be affected by changes in economic conditions, interest rates and the market's perception of the securities, which in turn may affect the value of your investment. o Investments by the Fund in emerging markets may involve a high degree of risk and may be considered speculative. Such risks include (i) greater risk of expropriation, confiscatory taxation, nationalisation, and social, political and economic instability; (ii) the current small size of the markets for securities of emerging market issuers and the currently low or non-existent volume of trading, resulting in lack of liquidity and in price volatility, (iii) certain national policies which may restrict the Fund's investment opportunities including restrictions on investing in issuers or industries deemed sensitive to relevant national interests; and (iv) the absence of developed legal structures governing private or foreign investment and private property. • You are exposed to equity risks. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o The Fund invests in stocks and other equity securities that historically have greater price volatility than bonds and other fixed income securities. This in turn may affect the value or volatility of the Fund.
Liquidity Risks

There may be a greater degree of volatility in such markets because of the speculative element, significant retail participation and lack of liquidity.

Product-Specific Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none">● You are exposed to political, regulatory and legal risk.<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ The Fund's investments may be adversely affected by international political developments, exchange controls, taxation, monetary and fiscal policies, foreign investment policies, government policies, restrictions on repatriation of investments and other changes in the laws and regulations in the relevant countries.● You are exposed to concentration risk.<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ Concentration of investments in a relatively small number of securities, sectors or industries, or geographical regions may significantly affect performance.● You are exposed to foreign exchange / currency risk.<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ Where investments are denominated in a currency that is different from the currency of denomination of the Fund or (as the case may be) relevant Class, fluctuations of the exchange rates of such currencies against the currency of the Fund or Class may affect the value of Units. The Managers may hedge the foreign currency exposure of the Fund or Class and may adopt an active or passive currency management approach. Foreign currency exposure may not be fully hedged depending on circumstances of each case, including the outlook, hedging costs and market liquidity of the relevant currency.○ Where a Class is not denominated in SGD, changes in the exchange rate between SGD and the Class currency may adversely affect the value of the Units of such Class, as expressed in the Class currency.● You are exposed to small and medium capitalisation companies risk.<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ The Fund will have exposure to small and medium capitalisation companies, which are generally less liquid and more volatile than larger companies.● You are exposed to derivatives risks.<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ An investment in a FDI (including foreign exchange forward contracts and equity index future contracts) may require the deposit of an initial margin and additional deposit of margin on short notice if the market moves against the investment position. If the required margin is not provided in time, the investment may be liquidated at a loss. Therefore, it is essential that investments in FDIs are monitored closely. The Managers have controls for investments in FDIs and have in place systems to monitor the FDI positions of the Fund.● You are exposed to risks relating to distributions.<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ Dividend/interest income may be adversely affected by e.g. investee entities suffering unexpected losses and/or paying lower than expected dividends, and currency fluctuations. Distributions from capital may reduce part of your original investment and result in reduced future returns.
