Parties Involved
WHO ARE YOU INVESTING WITH? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>■ The Management Company is Amundi Luxembourg S.A..</li> <li>■ The Investment Manager is First Eagle Investment Management, LLC, who is responsible for the day-to-day general management of the Sub-Fund's investments.</li> <li>■ The custodian is Société Générale Luxembourg.</li> </ul>	Refer to paragraph 2 of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on these entities and what happens if they become insolvent.
KEY RISKS
WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT? The value of the product and its dividends may rise or fall. These risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment:	Refer to paragraph 5 of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on risks of the product.
Market and Credit Risks
You are exposed to market risks. The Sub-Fund's investments could decrease in value due to movements in financial markets. Investments in common stocks and other equity securities are subject to market risk that historically has resulted in greater price volatility than bonds and other fixed income securities. You are exposed to currency risk. The Sub-Fund may be invested in values and instruments expressed in currencies other than its base currency. You may be exposed to a variation of the exchange rates of the currencies to which the Sub-Fund is exposed. Where a systematic hedging strategy is implemented, a residual currency risk may exist due to the imperfection of the hedging. You are exposed to credit and counterparty risk. The Sub-Fund may not be able to recover its investment due to the default on the obligation of any issuer of debt instruments held by the Sub-Funds or counterparty to any contract (including FDI contracts) in which the Sub-Fund is engaged. You are exposed to interest rate risk. The NAV of the Sub-Fund will be affected by fluctuations in interest rates. Generally, when interest rates decline, the market value of fixed-income securities tends to increase, and conversely, a rise in interest rates could result in a depreciation in value of the Sub-Fund's investments.

Liquidity Risks
The Sub-Fund is not listed and you can redeem only on Dealing Days. Also, Singapore Intermediaries may accept and deal with redemption orders only on Singapore Business Days, some of which may not be Dealing Days. The Sub-Fund may face difficulties in paying redemption proceeds within the time period stated in the Singapore Prospectus in the event of unusual market conditions or unusually high volume of redemption orders.
Product-Specific Risks
You are exposed to derivatives risk. The Sub-Fund may use FDIs such as options, warrants, swaps and/or futures. Such strategies might be unsuccessful and incur losses for the Sub-Fund and also involve additional risks such as the risk of mispricing or improper valuation and the risk that FDIs may not correlate perfectly with underlying assets, interest rates and indices. The gearing effect of investing in some FDIs and the volatility of the prices of futures contracts could result in higher risks than conventional investment policies. You are exposed to risks of value investing. The "value" style depends largely on the manager's skill in identifying securities of undervalued companies. Such securities may not achieve its expected value due to worsening circumstances causing it to under-price further or do not change, or due to incorrect determinations by the Investment Manager. You are exposed to risks of investing in smaller and medium companies. Investment in smaller and medium companies may be riskier due to higher risks of failure or bankruptcy and due to a reduced volume of quoted securities and to the accentuated movements that it implies. You are exposed to risks of investing in foreign securities. Investments in foreign securities may involve risk resulting from market and currency fluctuations, future adverse political and economic developments, possible restrictions on the repatriation of currency or other restrictions, reduced availability of public information concerning issuers and lack of uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards or other regulatory practices and requirements. Securities issued by companies or government in some countries may be illiquid and volatile. You are exposed to risks relating to distributions of dividends. Dividend/interest income and capital gains received by the Sub-Fund may be adversely affected by (amongst others) investee entities suffering unexpected losses and/or paying lower than expected dividends. Where dividend/interest income and/or capital gains are insufficient, distributions may be made out of capital, which may amount to a reduction of part of your original investment and may result in reduced future returns to you. Payment of distributions (whether out of dividend/interest income, capital gains, capital or otherwise) may have the effect of lowering the relevant Class's NAV. You are exposed to commodity risks. There may be a greater volatility of the Sub-Fund's assets invested in commodities linked securities or instruments, due to commodities prices that may fluctuate mainly due to supply and demand disruptions as well as political, environmental and/or commercial factors. You are exposed to emerging markets risk. Emerging markets are less established than developed markets and therefore involve higher risks, particularly market, liquidity, currency risks and interest rate risks, and the risk of higher volatility. You are exposed to high yield risk. High yield (or non-investment grade) debt securities involve special considerations and risks, including the risks associated with international investing generally, such as currency fluctuations, the risks of investing in countries with smaller capital markets, limited liquidity, price volatility and restrictions on foreign investment. Investment in high yield debt securities is subject to risks of interest rate, currency, market, credit and security.
