KEY RISKS
WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT? The value of the Sub-Fund and its distributions may rise or fall. Various risk factors, some of which are set out below, may cause you to lose some or all of your investment. The performance and future return of the Sub-Fund are not guaranteed.	Refer to "Risk Factors" in the Prospectus for further information on risks of the product.
Market and Credit Risks
You are exposed to emerging markets risks <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Emerging markets securities are riskier due to increased instability, illiquidity, volatility and settlement risk, and lack of infrastructure. You are exposed to equity investing risks <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The value of equity and equity-related securities may be adversely affected by economic, political, market and issuer-specific changes. You are exposed to fixed income default risk <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Issuers' default on payment/obligations may lead to illiquidity and volatility. High government deficit affects the rating of sovereign debt securities. You are exposed to risks relating to China <ul style="list-style-type: none"> You may be exposed to risks associated with the Stock Connect and ChiNext market (for equity investments), Bond Connect (for bond investments) and/or PRC market, political and economic factors.
Liquidity Risks
The Sub-Fund is not listed on the Singapore Exchange and there is no secondary market for its Units. You can redeem on Dealing Days only. All redemption requests should be made to the Manager's authorised distributors or through other applicable sales channels. Liquidity may be limited if a large portion of its assets is sold to meet redemptions within a short period.
Product-Specific Risks
You are exposed to asset allocation risk <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Sub-Fund's performance depends on the success of its asset allocation strategy. Periodical rebalancing incurs transaction costs. You are exposed to ETF and CIS investment risk <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Sub-Fund is exposed to the risks, fees and expenses, and performance of its underlying funds. You are exposed to base currency risk <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Exchange rate changes and exchange controls may affect securities not denominated in the Sub-Fund's base currency. You are exposed to ESG risks <ul style="list-style-type: none"> An ESG event may have material negative impact on the Sub-Fund's investments. Consideration of ESG factors may reduce such risks but this may cause the Sub-Fund to underperform non-ESG funds or the market. You are exposed to counterparty risk <ul style="list-style-type: none"> During a default, the Sub-Fund may be affected by insufficient collateral or the writing down, elimination or conversion of the counterparty's liabilities.

You are exposed to other liquidity risk

- Redemptions may dilute remaining Unitholders' interests. Asset disposal may be impaired or done at unfavourable prices.

You are exposed to below investment grade debt securities risk

- Such securities have greater credit, liquidity and market risks. Issuers are often highly leveraged and may default in an economic downturn.

You are exposed to interest rate risk

- The value of fixed income securities is affected by interest rate changes.

You are exposed to FDI risks

- FDI prices may involve high volatility, and security/market, illiquidity, default and legal risks. FDI use may be ineffective.

You are exposed to risks associated with QFI scheme

- QFI regulations may change retrospectively, limit acquisition of China A-Shares, limit price movements and affect liquidity.

You are exposed to commodity risk

- Commodity prices are influenced by macro-economic factors, nature, government policies and other unforeseeable events.

You are exposed to sovereign debt risk

- Payments on sovereign debt may be affected the country's cash flow, foreign reserves, manageable debt burden, monetary policies and politics.
